

An Important proposal from ECRC

As I previously mentioned in the recent Chair's update Edgworth Cricket and Recreation Club have been offered funds by the charitable arm of ao.com, specifically to develop an artificial grass pitch at the back of the Barlow. This is an important venture. Although instigated by ECRC, it has implications for the village and also for the Charity as a whole. If the proposal finds favour the donation will come to the Barlow Charity and the new pitch will be on charitable land. Because of this the Barlow will be hosting a consultation process in partnership with the ECRC so that the village and interested parties can express their opinion before the trustees make any decision whether to accept the proposal.

The following fact sheet from ECRC gives a more detailed picture of what the club proposes. The public have an opportunity to consult the plans and talk to the representatives of ECRC on Saturday 23rd February in the Barlow Main Hall from 10.00am - 1.00pm. There will be opportunities to give written feedback on the day. You may also respond by post to: ECRC Proposal Consultation, The Office, Barlow in Edgworth, BL7 0AP
